warehouse for consumption of tuna and tuna products from the Solomon Islands is removed.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The prohibition against the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of tuna and tuna products from the Solomon Islands is removed effective April 17, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Harrison C. Feese, Entry, Operations and Trade Control Branch, Office of Commercial Operations, U.S. Customs Service, 1301 Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20229 (202–566–8651).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Section 205(a)(4)(C) of the Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976 (16 U.S.C. 1801, et seq.), provides that the Secretary of State shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury any determination that a fishing vessel of the U.S., while fishing in waters beyond any foreign nation's territorial sea, to the extent that such sea is recognized by the U.S., has been seized by a foreign nation as a consequence of a claim of jurisdiction not recognized by the U.S. The responsibility for this certification was delegated to the Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs by Department of State Delegation of Authority No. 138 of April 29, 1977.

Pursuant to section 205(b) of the Act, upon receiving the certification, the Secretary of the Treasury is required to take such action s may be necessary and appropriate to prohibit the importation of all fish and fish products from the fishery involved.

Section 205(c) of the Act provides that if the Secretary of State finds that the reasons for the import prohibition no longer prevail, the Secretary of State shall notify the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall promptly remove the import prohibition.

On Ausust 23, 1984, a notice was published in the Federal Register (49 FR 33526) advising that under section 205(a)(4)(C) of the Act, on July 31, 1984, the Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs certified to the Secretary of the Treasury that a U.S. fishing vessel, while fishing in waters beyond any foreign nation's territorial sea, to the extent that such sea is recognized by the U.S., was seized by the Solomon Islands as a consequence of a claim of jurisdiction which is not recognized by the U.S. Under the authority of section 205 (b) and (c) of the Act, on August 9, 1984, the Secretary of the Treasury determined that the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of tuna and tuna products from the Solomon Islands was prohibited until the Department of State notified the Secretary of the Treasury that the reasons for this prohibition no longer prevailed.

On March 6, 1985, the Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs informed the Secretary of the Treasury that the reasons for the imposition of the import prohibition on tuna and tuna products no longer prevail. Accordingly, the prohibition against the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of tuna and tuna products from the Solomon Islands is removed.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

Grants Program: Accredited U.S. Institution of Higher Education in Support of an Undergraduate Scholarship Program for Central American Students

Reference: OMB clearance number 3116–0179. Expiration date January 31, 1987.

The Bureau of Education and Cultural Affairs announces a program of United States government-sponsored undergraduate scholarships for Central Americans to study at accredited U.S. institutions of higher education. The program has the following broad objectives: to improve the range and quality of educational opportunities for young Central Americans of limited financial means; to match educational opportunities with skill shortages in Central America; to build lasting links between the U.S. and Central America. Student scholarship awards funded by USIA through pilot-project grants to U.S. institutions of higher education may range from twelve to thirty months in length, including English language training and other program enhancements. An education institution may apply for only one program per campus. No one campus will receive fewer than five nor more than fifteen students, to be identified by a separate, Agency-sponsored mechanism.

To achieve the program's goals, two broad project types have been identified: undergraduate programs for primary and secondary school teachers, to upgrade knowledge of selected disciplines and to improve teaching skills; and undergraduate advanced programs in several subject disciplines.

Current plans call for recruiting students from Belize, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Panama in subject fields of the following disciplines: education, social sciences, natural sciences, business, management, engineering, health.

Exact program requirements and dates will be specified in a Request for Proposals (RFP) to be issued on or about May 15, 1985.

To receive a copy of the RFP and supporting materials, interested academic institutions should write to: Office of Academic Programs, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, United States Information Agency, Washington, D.C. 20547, Attention: Dr. Alan Adelman, Telephone: (202) 485–7365.

Dated: April 10, 1985.

Ronald L. Trowbridge,

Associate Director, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs.
