COMMISSIONER MACINTYRE'S STATEMENT ON MOTION THAT HE BE DISQUALIFIED

MAY 12, 1965

During the late 1940's and the early 1950's, when I was serving on the staff of the Federal Trade Commission as Assistant Director of the Bureau of Antimonopoly and Chief of the Division of Investigation and Litigation, I supervised a substantial number of investigations and a substantial amount of litigation. Included was a case entitled In re Doubleday and Co., Inc., F.T.C. Docket No. 5897 [52 F.T.C. 169]. It involved a factual situation confined to the practices allegedly pursued by that firm. The Federal Trade Commission dismissed the complaint in part. Quite recently the Commission instituted proceedings In re Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., F.T.C. Docket No.
