IN THE MATTER OF

GLOBAL WORLD MEDIA CORPORATION, ET AL.

CONSENT ORDER, ETC., IN REGARD TO ALLEGED VIOLATION OF SECS. 5 AND 12 OF THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION ACT*Docket C-3772. Complaint, October 9, 1997--Decision, October 9, 1997*

This consent order, among other things, requires a California-based company and its officer, the marketers of a supplement known as "Herbal Ecstasy," to substantiate all future safety claims for any food, drug or dietary supplement, and requires a disclosure statement warning consumers of the potentially serious safety risks of taking Ecstasy or any other product containing ephedra. In addition, the consent order prohibits the respondents from promoting Ecstasy or any similar product for its mind-altering effects in media with a predominant youth audience, and prohibits misrepresentations of testimonials or endorsements of any product.

For the respondents: William H. Dailey, Encino, CA.

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that Global World Media Corporation, a corporation, and Sean Shayan, individually and as an officer of the corporation ("respondents"), have violated provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, and it appearing to the Commission that this proceeding is in the public interest, alleges:

1. Respondent Global World Media Corporation is a California corporation with its principal office or place of business at 1501 Main Street, Venice, California.

2. Respondent Sean Shayan is an officer of the corporate respondent. Individually or in concert with others, he formulates, directs, or controls the policies, acts, or practices of the corporation, including the acts and practices alleged in this complaint. His principal office or place of business is the same as that of Global World Media Corporation.

3. Respondents have advertised, labeled, offered for sale, sold, and distributed products to the public, including Ecstasy or Herbal Ecstasy tablets ("Ecstasy"). The principal ingredient in Ecstasy is Ma-Huang, a botanical source of ephedrine alkaloids. Ecstasy also contains, among other things, the following ingredients: guarana, ginseng, ginkgo biloba, cola nut, and green tea extract. Ecstasy is a "food" and/or "drug," within the meaning of Sections 12 and 15 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

4. The acts and practices of respondents alleged in this complaint have been in or affecting commerce, as "commerce" is defined in Section 4 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

5. Respondents have disseminated, or have caused to be disseminated, advertisements for Ecstasy, including but not necessarily limited to the attached Exhibits A through D, and oral representations as set forth in subparagraph E below. In addition, respondents have furnished the means and instrumentalities to third party distributors to disseminate advertising on the World Wide Web, including but not necessarily limited to the attached Exhibits E and F. These advertisements and oral representations contained the following statements:

6. Through the means described in paragraph five, respondents have represented, expressly or by implication, that use of Ecstasy in the doses recommended or in other reasonably foreseeable amounts is absolutely safe and will cause no side effects.

7. In truth and in fact, use of Ecstasy in the doses recommended or in other reasonably foreseeable amounts is not absolutely safe and may cause side effects. The Ma-Huang in Ecstasy is a botanical source of various chemicals including ephedrine alkaloids that can have dangerous effects on the central nervous system and heart. Therefore, the representation set forth in paragraph six was, and is, false or misleading.

8. Through the means described in paragraph five, respondents have represented, expressly or by implication, that they possessed and relied upon a reasonable basis that substantiated the representation set forth in paragraph six, at the time the representation was made.

9. In truth and in fact, respondents did not possess and rely upon a reasonable basis that the representation set forth in paragraph six, at the time the representation was made. Therefore, the representation set forth in paragraph eight was, and is, false or misleading.

10. Through the means described in paragraph five, respondents have represented, expressly or by implication, that Dr. Steven Jonson of Tel Aviv, Israel, provided an endorsement pertaining to the absolute safety and the lack of side effects of Ecstasy, and that the endorsement appearing in the advertisements for Ecstasy accurately reflects his actual opinions, findings, and beliefs.

11. In truth and in fact, Dr. Steven Jonson of Tel Aviv, Israel, did not provide an endorsement pertaining to the absolute safety and the lack of side effects of Ecstasy. Dr. Jonson is a fictitious person and, therefore, the endorsement appearing in the advertisements for Ecstasy does not accurately reflect the actual opinions, findings, or beliefs of Dr. Jonson.

12. In their advertising and sale of Ecstasy tablets, including in media with a substantial youth audience such as certain Nickelodeon and MTV cable programming stations, respondents have represented that Ecstasy tablets are a safe alternative to illegal drugs to produce euphoric, psychotropic, or sexual enhancement effects. Respondents have failed to disclose that use of Ecstasy tablets in the doses recommended or in other reasonably foreseeable amounts may present a significant health or safety risk, including but not limited to dangerous effects on the central nervous system and heart. These facts would be material to consumers in their purchase and use of Ecstasy tablets. This practice was, and is, a deceptive act or practice.

13. The acts and practices of respondents as alleged in this complaint constitute unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and the making of false advertisements, in or affecting commerce in violation of Sections 5(a) and 12 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

The Federal Trade Commission having initiated an investigation of certain acts and practices of the respondents named in the caption hereof, and the respondents having been furnished thereafter with a copy of a draft of complaint which the Bureau of Consumer Protection proposed to present to the Commission for its consideration and which, if issued by the Commission, would charge respondents with violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act; and

Dear [name]:

This letter is to inform you that Global World Media Corporation ("GWMC") recently settled a civil dispute with the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") regarding certain alleged claims about Ecstasy or Herbal Ecstasy tablets

("Ecstasy"). Although we do not admit the violations alleged in the FTC complaint, we have entered into this settlement with the FTC to avoid litigation. As part of the settlement, we are required to notify our employees and others who make or receive calls about Ecstasy, or other ephedrine-containing products sold by GWMC, to stop making certain statements prohibited by the order and to notify the caller of the potentially serious health risks associated with taking these products.

Effective immediately, you must comply with the following requirements when contacting potential purchasers or responding by telephone, in writing, or by any other means to any inquiry about Ecstasy or any other ephedrine-containing product sold by GWMC. These products include [list here by product name any ephedrine-containing products other than Ecstasy sold by GWMC as of the date of this notice]:

1. You must make the following disclosure in your communications about Ecstasy or any other ephedrine product:

* "I am required to give you the following important information:

WARNING: This product contains ephedrine which can have dangerous effects on the central nervous system and heart and could result in serious injury. Risk of injury increases with dose."

[In the event any FDA rule or regulation requires a different warning or disclosure in labeling about the health and safety effects of such products, substitute that warning or disclosure here.]

When given orally, this statement must be read prior to any other discussion about the product and in a tone of voice and at a speed that will permit the caller to hear the disclosure and understand the seriousness of the warning. When included in any written communication, this statement must be presented clearly and prominently and before any other information about the product. You must not make any statement or other suggestion that could contradict this statement.

2. You must not make any statement or other suggestion about the number of tablets that users can take, other than to repeat the dose information on the product label.

Under the FTC order, we are required to get a signed statement from you that you have read this letter and intend to comply with its requirements. Accordingly, you must sign and return the following statement to us.

Failure to sign and return the attached statement promptly or to comply with the provisions of this letter will result in your termination.

Your cooperation in complying with this letter is appreciated. If you have any questions, please contact William H. Dailey at (310) 458-0810 [in the event that he no longer represents GWMC, the name and telephone number of the acting attorney, or if none, an officer of GWMC, may be substituted].

Dear [name]

This letter is to inform you that Global World Media Corporation ("GWMC") recently settled a civil dispute with the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") regarding certain alleged claims about Ecstasy or Herbal Ecstasy tablets ("Ecstasy"). Although we do not admit to the violations alleged in the FTC complaint, we have entered into this settlement with the FTC to avoid litigation. As part of the settlement, we are required to notify anyone who purchases for resale Ecstasy or other ephedrine-containing products sold by GWMC, including [list any ephedrine-containing products sold by GWMC as of the date of this letter], to stop using advertising or promotional materials that make any of the representations prohibited by the settlement.

Allegations of the FTC Complaint

The FTC complaint alleges that GWMC claimed that the use of Ecstasy in the recommended doses or other reasonably foreseeable amounts is absolutely safe and will cause no side effects. The complaint challenges these claims as false and unsubstantiated, noting that the use of products that contain ephedrine alkaloids, such as Ecstasy, can have dangerous effects on the central nervous system and heart. The complaint also charges that GWMC's advertising for Ecstasy included false endorsements from fictitious persons, including Dr. Steven Jonson.

FTC Order Provisions

The order we entered into as part of our settlement with the FTC requires us to comply with the following provisions:

1. We are prohibited from making claims in advertising, labeling and other promotions for Ecstasy, or any other food, drug or dietary supplement, that such product is absolutely safe or causes no side effects, or from making any other claim about the product's safety or lack of side effects, unless the claim is true and we have competent and reliable scientific evidence to support it.

2. We are prohibited in advertising, labeling, and other promotions for Ecstasy or other products we sell that contain ephedrine, including those listed above, from recommending a dose that exceeds the maximum level for ephedrine as established by FDA for dietary supplements [insert FDA standard as of the date of this letter].

3. We are prohibited in advertising, labeling, and other promotions for any product from representing falsely that any testimonial or endorsement of the product reflects the actual experience and current opinions, findings, beliefs or experiences of the testimonial or endorser.

4. We are required in all advertising, labeling, and other promotions for Ecstasy and other ephedrine-containing products to make the following disclosure clearly and prominently:

WARNING: This product contains ephedrine which can have dangerous effects on the central nervous system and heart and could result in serious injury. Risk of injury increases with dose.

[In the event any FDA rule or regulation requires a different warning or disclosure in labeling, about safety or health effects of such products, substitute that warning or disclosure here.]

5. Finally, we are prohibited from marketing Ecstasy or any other ephedrine-containing product for its euphoric, psychotropic, or sexual effects, through any advertising, marketing, or other promotions directed at an audience with 50% or more of its members under the age of twenty-one.

As part of our settlement with the FTC, GWMC must take steps (such as sending you this letter) to ensure that people who purchase for resale Ecstasy or other ephedrine-containing products sold by GWMC stop using any advertising or promotional materials that do not fully comply with the requirements described above. If you continue to use materials that do not fully comply with such requirements, we are required by the settlement with the FTC to stop selling Ecstasy and other ephedrine-containing products to you.

Thank you for your assistance. If you have any questions, please contact William H. Dailey at (310) 458-0810 [in the event that he no longer represents GWMC, the name and telephone number of the acting attorney, or if none, an officer of GWMC, may be substituted].

Sincerely,

Sean Shayan

IN THE MATTER OF

AUTOMATIC DATA PROCESSING, INC.

CONSENT ORDER, ETC., IN REGARD TO ALLEGED VIOLATION OF SEC. 7 OF THE CLAYTON ACT AND SEC. 5 OF THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION ACT

Docket 9282. Complaint, Nov. 13, 1996--Decision, Oct. 20, 1997

This consent order requires, among other things, Automatic Data Processing, Inc. ("ADP"), the New Jersey salvage-yard parts trading information network, to divest the former AutoInfo assets as an ongoing business, to grant the acquirer a paid-up, perpetual, non-exclusive license to the "Hollander Interchange" (the cross-indexed numbering system of interchangeable auto parts) and to provide updates to the Hollander Interchange until the acquirer can create its own updates. The consent order also requires ADP, for one year after divestiture, to allow the acquirer to draw on ADP's technical assistance, and to allow certain contractual customers to switch to the acquirer's product without penalty. In addition, the consent order prohibits ADP from restricting its employees from accepting employment with the acquirer and, for 10 years, prohibits it from restricting its customers' ability to connect to and receive or transmit inventory data through the acquirer's products and requires it to provide information necessary for the acquirer or its licensees to create interfaces with ADP's products. Finally, for 10 years, the consent order requires ADP to obtain FTC approval before reacquiring any AutoInfo assets and to notify the FTC before acquiring other assets used in salvage-yard management or communications systems.
