Weight Watchers has a weight-loss service to meet everyone's needs. All are based on our proven Quick Success Program and provide safe, healthy, and effective weight loss.

Our traditional group services — neighborhood and community — help the community to share in their weight-loss efforts.

Our convenient At Work® Program — groups of fellow workers who meet right at their workplace.

Our exclusive Inner Circle® — providing loss of personal attention to small groups of 8 to 12 members who share the same weight-loss concerns.

WEIGHT WATCHERS LINK IN THE HEALTH-CARE SYSTEM

Weight Watchers provides low-cost weight loss implemented at the community level by specially trained staff members. Our unique approach is to offer physical weighing and informational and inspirational group meetings. This approach is designed to help members achieve their weight-loss goals through a combination of services by providing weight-loss expertise and the team spirit, support, and encouragement that can best be simulated in a group working through weight loss challenges together.

Weight Watchers welcomes any man, woman, or child (10 years or older) with at least 10 pounds to lose. While we are especially skilled at handling people with 40 pounds or more to lose, we are equally experienced in helping people with 10 to 20 pounds to lose. Our Program is informative, inspirational, and fun, and we have established an excellent reputation with your patients.

We recommend that every member seek his/her physician's approval before beginning our weight-loss Program, and ask your support by encouraging their participation and recognizing their progress. Our Program is designed to complement, not compete with, your medical/nutritional expertise. We have a weight loss Program you can recommend with confidence.

Weight Watchers — the source for sensible weight loss.

Safe, Healthy, and Effective Weight Loss

Over the long term, our members average a loss of one-half to one pound per week, with no weight gain occurring in the first 12 weeks of our new Quick Success Program. Members lose 20% more weight than ever before. Additionally, our Exercise Plan works in conjunction with our Food Plan to provide a safe and effective way to dispose of excess body fat.

Long-Term Life-Style Changes

The feelings of success cultivated during the early weeks of the Program foster the self-efficacy needed to see weight-loss goals to fruition. Therefore, Weight Watchers members not only lose weight successfully, they learn the necessary skills to maintain their weight loss. This includes adoption of healthy eating and exercise habits, and the implementation of strategies for dealing with challenging weight-loss situations. Our members learn to make proper weight management a lifelong habit.

Reshaping behavior through The Quick Success Self-Discovery Plan. The necessary for the overweight individual to develop, strengthen, and maintain a strong motivation to lose weight cannot be achieved without first understanding the reasons why weight loss results will not be long-lasting. Using behavior modification and cognitive restructuring techniques, the Self-Discovery Plan provides positive attitudes and actions. Delivered through a self-teaching module, this plan helps members understand the reasons for their eating and exercise behavior and develop more positive self images. Through this Plan, members may work on such challenges as binge eating, self-deceiving thoughts, and eating triggers, while striving toward a lifetime of controlled eating.

Providing Inspiration through our Group Support System. Of all specialized concerns, the primary concern of the overweight individual is to lose weight. This is the most salient. That's why the Group Support System, the hallmark of the Weight Watchers organization, is the core of our weight-loss Program. Empathy, encouragement, motivation, and support are all conveyed through weekly meetings with a trained professional staff member. Members learn the skills and build the confidence they need to successfully follow the Program. Not only do members learn the skills, but they also learn the importance of increasing participant adherence and, subsequently, weight loss.

APPROACH TO WEIGHT LOSS

The philosophy of the Weight Watchers program encompasses a multidisciplinary approach to weight loss via The Quick Success Program. This comprehensive intervention program consists of the following four components:

Self-Discovery Plan. The Quick Success Self-Discovery Plan is a healthy eating plan based on a variety of readily available, wholesome foods. Nutritional adequacy is attained through proper food selection that may be adjusted to individual ethnic habits and preferences, cost, and availability. Calorie build progressively, starting at approximately 1,000 kilocalories per day for women on the first week and building to approximately 1,200 kilocalories by the fifth week. Macronutrient nutrients are a key component of the program. The breakdown of the 1,200 kilocalorie breakdown shown in Figure 2 compares favorably with government guidelines. With prudent cholesterol, sodium, and simple sugar values, our nutritional parameters meet with guidelines established by the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society. The American and Canadian Diabetes Societies. More importantly, the Food Plan is flexible enough to be adapted to any life-style thereby increasing each member's likelihood of long-term success.

Increasing caloric output through The Quick Success Exercise Plan. When exercise is used in conjunction with diet for weight loss, a higher percentage of net weight lost will be adipose tissue. In addition, the inclusion of an exercise prescription increases the likelihood that dietary management will succeed, and also offers physical benefits. The Quick Success Exercise Plan offers all Weight Watchers members, from the sedentary to the more active, the opportunity to benefit from increased physical activity at any or all of four levels of exertion. Members may choose from the following: Stationary Bicycling, Outdoor Bicycling, and Jogging. Swimming, at low to moderate levels (60-80% of age predicted maximum heart rate) in order to provide optimal calorie- and fat-burning benefits. The program stress on both low and high intensity physical activity. Increasing physical activity in order to provide an enjoyable path to a more active life-style. Our Exercise Plan meets guidelines for the exercise component of the Quick Success Program.

*Adipose tissue increase from 1,000 to 1,600 for men and from 1,500 to 1,700 for women.

Let Weight Watchers Work For You Where You Work!

You'd like to lose weight, but there's just not enough time to commit to a program that will help you succeed. Right? Wrong! The Weight Watchers At Work Program® was designed with the needs of busy working people in mind.

We've adapted our proven weight-loss method—the world's most successful—to fit the high-pressure lifestyles and hectic schedules of today's workplace. And now, in cooperation with your employer, our expertise is available to you right where you work.

The At Work Program offers unparalleled convenience.

Getting to At Work Program meetings couldn't be easier or more convenient. Meetings are held on company premises during your lunch break or before or after hours. So the usual deterrents—meetings, children, errands, exhaustion, lack of time—don't get in the way of your attendance.

The At Work Program understands your needs.

We designed our program to accommodate the unique needs of working people. During our meetings, we'll show you how to:

- Cope with coffee breaks and candy machines.
- Brown bag with flair.
- Beat the after-work syndrome.
- Manage stress and maintain motivation.
- Take time-out for yourself.

The At Work Program is more than a diet.

The At Work Program is much more than a diet. It's a program that fits your lifestyle rather than requiring that you change it. Designed by a group of prominent medical, exercise, nutrition and psychological professionals, every facet of The At Work Program is geared to the special needs of working people who want to lose weight safely and effectively.

Our program not only helps you slim down, it helps you stay that way. You'll learn how to eliminate the habits that have contributed to unwanted weight gain and replace them with constructive ones. This doesn't mean you have to give up the foods you love. Our flexible food plan still has room for cheeseburgers, French fries, chocolate layer cake and other foods many people mistakenly think they have to give up. In fact, with the Weight Watchers® Program, no one will even know you're on a diet.

The At Work Program starts with success.

Weight Watchers has already helped more than 30 million people around the world lose weight. In our At Work Program you, too, will shed pounds with our medically approved program comprising the following:

- FOOD PLAN—Promotes faster yet safe weight loss through portion control and an exchange system that enables you to eat the everyday foods you love—at work, at home and on the go.
- EXERCISE PLAN—Helps you slim down, firm up and feel good with a choice of five optional inch-shaving activities and four levels of participation tailored to your needs and preferences.
- SELF-DISCOVERY PLAN—Explores food-related behavior patterns and helps you establish healthy eating and exercise habits so that you not only lose weight but also maintain the loss.
- GROUP LEARNING AND SUPPORT—You'll get up-to-the-minute information about weight-related issues in an atmosphere of mutual support, inspiration and motivation that will help you and your co-workers stay on the road to successful weight control.

The At Work Program continues with success.

At each At Work Program meeting you will receive additional weight-loss tools that make it easier to reach and maintain your goal weight. You'll learn that weight loss and delicious food go hand in hand and that eating well does not mean denying yourself the rewards you want for hard work. Most importantly, you'll be setting the foundation for a lifetime of successful weight management, joining the tens of thousands of people who have reached and maintained their goal weights through our program.

The At Work Program means privacy and personal choice.

At Work Program members are weighed each week—in privacy. You're free to tell anyone you want how much weight you've lost and how proud you are, but we won't tell anyone without your consent. The same goes for meeting participation. You can actively participate or just sit back and learn from the experiences of your leader and fellow members.

The At Work Program leaders care.

Genuine caring is one of the factors that helps At Work Program members succeed. Our leaders know how it feels to want to lose weight because they are all Weight Watchers success stories who themselves have met and maintained their weight-loss goals on our program. Their own experience makes them keenly aware of what you are experiencing, and you'll find that you benefit from their knowledge.

It is also reduced in our policies. We require no contracts or long-term obligations. You pay a modest fee each time you attend a meeting. In fact, Weight Watchers—consistently rated as one of the world's best and most successful weight-loss programs—charges merely $10 a week for most other weight-loss programs. And our weekly fee enables you to attend as many meetings as you like—ten times in the world.

Every leader has had weight with Weight Watchers. It's not an individual success story. His or she is all about the information about weight-related issues in a supportive, highly supportive environment. You'll benefit from the way the leader picked up along the way to success as well as from concrete, factual information prepared for you by Weight Watchers.

For example, will you have to read a book as you know exactly what you're eating and exactly how you're exercising? Or will you need a lot of support to get to that point? And as you learn, you'll be supported by your leader and other members of your group who are sharing their experience. You can contribute as much as you like as you like the obese years. And, of course, your weight-loss are private and confidential.

Exercise makes you feel better, helps you look better, and speeds up the weight-loss process. Weight Trainers' personal exercise program was designed by leading health and physical fitness experts who specifically tailored it to help speed weight loss. It includes activities at several levels of participation to ensure that you can use the plan in a way that will best suit your goals and needs.

If you're ready to lose weight, we're ready to help you succeed. Join us at a meeting today and see how quickly and effectively The Fast and Flexible Program can work for you! Check your local telephone listing for the Weight Watchers location nearest to you.

OUR UNIQUE FOUR-WAY APPROACH TO WEIGHT LOSS

The new Quick Success program—it's not a diet, it's a total weight-loss package. Using our proven four-way approach, you'll progress toward one ultimate goal—permanent weight loss. Here's how it works....

1. Our FOOD PLAN promotes safe weight loss through a variety of nutritious and satisfying foods. Plus
 - ☐ It's easy to follow — guiding you with simple Menu Planners.
 - ☐ It fits your life-style — providing you with a "spending allowance" of extra calories, plus plans for dining out, celebrating special occasions, and more!
- Our EXERCISE PLAN helps you slim down, firm up, and feel good. It offers
 - ☐ Five "figure-slimming" activities — walking, walking-jogging, stationary bicycling, outdoor bicycling, and swimming, plus special firming and toning exercises.
 - ☐ Four levels of participation — including one that's just right for you!
3. Our SELF-DISCOVERY PLAN® helps you put your Food and Exercise Plans into action. It helps you
 - ☐ Discover your food-related behavior patterns through self-tests and quizzes.
 - ☐ Learn new skills to help you develop healthy eating and exercise habits.
 - ☐ Look and feel your best while you slim down.
4. Our unique GROUP SUPPORT system is the key that has helped millions of people lose weight. It brings you
 - ☐ A sense of belonging, cultivated by the caring and interaction from your weekly meeting.
 - ☐ Team spirit, sparked by the pursuit of a common goal.
 - ☐ Inspiration and motivation to get you through the week—and ultimately to your goal!

Food Plan + Exercise Plan + Self-Discovery Plan + Group Support = the Quick Success program, which can mean permanent weight loss!

Weight Watchers

Introducing an exciting new way to lose weight.

I can't believe it. I ate pizza with my kids, the same meals I cooked for my family, and even had a snack with my coffee. And you know what? I lost every single pound I wanted to.

It works fast. The amazing New Fast & Flexible Program from Weight Watchers fits so comfortably into my lifestyle that I thought I wouldn't notice results right away. Was I surprised when my husband told me how great I looked after just one week.

What's more, because I can live with this program, I stuck to it and reached my goal. And believe me, there's nothing more satisfying than success.

And it fits my lifestyle.

Before you know it.

Too many dieters never make it from "before" to "after." Some lose motivation along the way. Others get too hungry from skimpy, so-called meals. And a few just give up—before the end of the first day.

If you're one of these people, then Weight Watchers New Quick Success Program can help you reach "after" a lot sooner than you think.

Last year alone, this proven effective program helped millions of members take off weight over 20% faster than ever. This year, it's even easier.

Our New Quick Success Program now includes even more delicious choices on its food plan. And as a Weight Watchers member, you'll receive the kind of support and motivation you need to change poor eating habits—and stick to your food plan.

If you'd like to make an even greater commitment to your weight loss effort, we offer an optional exercise plan. It's also the perfect way to build confidence and have some fun.

So if you've been thinking that "after" will never come, stop worrying. And start thinking about the great new figure—and fashions—you'll have soon after joining Weight Watchers.

STATEMENT OF COMMISSIONER DEBORAH K. OWEN
CONCURRING IN PART AND DISSENTING IN PART

The Commission's decision to accept for public comment consent orders with three major marketers of low calorie diets, and to issue Part III complaints against two others, represents an important, and largely appropriate, next step in the Commission's efforts to address allegations of false and unsubstantiated advertising claims in the diet industry. However, I must dissent on two aspects of the proposed remedies in these matters.

First, in the earlier very low calorie diet cases, I took the position that the mandated weight loss maintenance disclosures were likely to be too complex to enlighten consumers if made during short radio or TV ads.¹ I recommended requiring more concise disclosures for such broadcast ads, which would be supplemented by full disclosure at the point of sale. The contemplated relief in the present five matters adopts much of this approach, and, as such, represents a significant improvement over the very low calorie diet consents. However, this improvement would not apply where a broadcast maintenance claim includes a number, percentage, or other descriptive term to convey a quantitative measure. I am concerned that this proviso will significantly reduce, if not eliminate, the incidence of shorter, more understandable broadcast ad disclosures, without providing sufficiently compensating gains in preventing deception. Furthermore, the proviso's language regarding descriptive terms conveying a quantitative measure is vague. Appropriate, non-deceptive claims may be inadvertently chilled as a result, and vexing compliance questions may arise as respondents attempt to conform to the requirements of the orders. Accordingly, I dissent with respect to inclusion of this proviso in the proposed consents and notice orders.

Second, I dissent with regard to the notice of possible action under Section 19(b) of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. 57b, in the Jenny Craig and Weight Watchers matters. Consumer redress has not been included in any of the recent settlements with marketers of very low, and low calorie diet programs, and there appear to be no distinguishable appropriate grounds for seeking this relief from Jenny Craig and Weight Watchers. Moreover, assessing consumer injury and determining levels of fair and equitable redress are apt to pose insurmountable problems for meaningful Section 19(b) actions in these matters.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Commission having heretofore issued its complaint charging the respondent named in the caption hereof with violation of Sections 5 and 12 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, as amended, and the respondent having been served with a copy of that complaint, together with a notice of contemplated relief; and

The respondent, its attorneys, and counsel for the Commission having thereafter executed an agreement containing a consent order, an admission by the respondent of all the jurisdictional facts set forth in the complaint, a statement that the signing of said agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission by respondent that the law has been violated as alleged in such complaint, or that the facts as alleged in such complaint, other than jurisdictional facts, are true, and waivers and other provisions as required by the Commission's Rules; and

The Secretary of the Commission having thereafter withdrawn this matter from adjudication in accordance with Section 3.25(c) of its Rules; and

The Commission having considered the matter and having thereupon accepted the executed consent agreement and placed such agreement on the public record for a period of sixty (60) days, now in further conformity with the procedure prescribed in Section 3.25(f) of its Rules, the Commission hereby makes the following jurisdictional findings and enters the following order:

1. Respondent Weight Watchers International, Inc. is a corporation organized, existing, and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Virginia, with its principal place of business located at 175 Crossways Park West, Woodbury, N.Y.

2. The Federal Trade Commission has jurisdiction of the subject matter of this proceeding and of the respondent, and the proceeding is in the public interest.

ORDER

For the purposes of this order, the following definitions shall apply:

A. "Competent and reliable scientific evidence" shall mean those tests, analyses, research, studies, surveys, or other evidence based on the expertise of professionals in the relevant area, that have been conducted and evaluated in an objective manner by persons qualified to do so, using procedures generally accepted in the profession to yield accurate and reliable results.

B. "Weight loss program" shall mean any program designed to aid consumers in weight loss or weight maintenance, when offered to consumers in classes or meetings of one or more individuals where person-to-person instruction in weight loss or weight maintenance is provided. Food products shall not be considered, for purposes of this order, part of a weight loss program unless they are advertised, promoted, offered for sale or sold as a necessary part, e.g., "Personal Cuisine," of a "weight loss program." Cardio-Fitness Corporation programs shall not be deemed, for purposes of this order, "weight loss programs," unless they are advertised, promoted, offered for sale, or sold using the Weight Watchers trademark or name and otherwise satisfy the definition of "weight loss program."

C. "Broadcast medium" shall mean any radio or television broadcast, cablecast, home video, or theatrical release.

D. For any order-required disclosure in a print medium to be made "clearly and prominently" or in a "clear and prominent manner," it must be given both in the same type style and in:

- (1) Twelve point type where the representation that triggers the disclosure is given in twelve point or larger type; or
- (2) The same type size as the representation that triggers the disclosure where that representation is given in a type size that is smaller than twelve point type.

E. For any order-required disclosure given orally in a broadcast medium to be made "clearly and prominently" or in a "clear and prominent manner," the disclosure must be given at the same volume and in the same cadence as the representation that triggers the disclosure.

F. For any order-required disclosure given in the video portion of a television or video advertisement to be made "clearly and prominently" or in a "clear and prominent manner," the disclosure must be of a size and shade, and must appear on the screen for a duration, sufficient for an ordinary consumer to read and comprehend it.

I.

It is ordered, That Weight Watchers International, Inc., a corporation ("respondent"), its successors and assigns, and respondent's officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporation, subsidiary, division, or other device, including franchisees or licensees, in connection with the advertising, promotion, offering for sale, or sale of any weight loss program, in or affecting commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Making any representation, directly or by implication, about the success of participants on any weight loss program in achieving or maintaining weight loss or weight control unless, at the time of making any such representation, respondent possesses and relies upon competent and reliable evidence, which when appropriate must be competent and reliable scientific evidence, that substantiates the representation; provided, further, that for any representation that:

(1) Any weight loss achieved or maintained through the weight loss program is typical or representative of all or any subset of participants of respondent's program, said evidence shall, at a minimum, be based on a representative sample of:

(a) All participants who have entered the program, where the representation relates to such persons; provided, however, that the required sample may exclude those participants who dropped out of the program within two weeks of their entrance or who were unable to complete the program due to change of residence or medical reasons, such as pregnancy; or

(b) All participants who have completed a particular phase of the program or the entire program, where the representation only relates to such persons;

(2) Any weight loss is maintained long-term, said evidence shall, at a minimum, be based upon the experience of participants who were followed for a period of at least two years from their completion of the active maintenance phase of respondent's program, or earlier termination, as applicable; and

(3) Any weight loss is maintained permanently, said evidence shall, at a minimum, be based upon the experience of participants who were followed for a period of time after completing the program that is either:

(a) Generally recognized by experts in the field of treating obesity as being of sufficient length for predicting that weight loss will be permanent, or

(b) Demonstrated by competent and reliable survey evidence as being of sufficient duration to permit such a prediction.

B. Representing, directly or by implication, except through endorsements or testimonials referred to in paragraph I.D herein, that participants of any weight loss program have successfully maintained weight loss, unless respondent discloses, clearly and prominently, and in close proximity to such representation, the statement: "For many dieters, weight loss is temporary.";

Provided, further, that respondent shall not represent, directly or by implication, that the above-quoted statement does not apply to dieters in respondent's weight loss program;

Provided, however, that a truthful statement that merely describes the existence, design, or content of a weight maintenance or weight management program or notes that the program teaches participants about how to manage their weight will not, without more, be considered for purposes of this order a representation regarding weight loss maintenance success.

C. Representing, directly or by implication, except through endorsements or testimonials referred to in paragraph I.D herein, that participants of any weight loss program have successfully maintained weight loss, unless respondent discloses, clearly and prominently, and in close proximity to such representation, the following information:

(1) The average percentage of weight loss maintained by those participants;

(2) The duration over which the weight loss was maintained, measured from the date that participants ended the active weight loss phase of the program, provided, further, that if any portion of the time period covered includes participation in a maintenance program(s) that follows active weight loss, such fact must also be disclosed; and

(3) If the participant population referred to is not representative of the general participant population for respondent's programs:

(a) The proportion of the total participant population in respondent's programs that those participants represent, expressed in terms of a percentage or actual numbers of participants, or

(b) The statement: "Weight Watchers makes no claim that this [these] result[s] is [are] representative of all participants in the Weight Watchers program.";

provided, however, that for representations about weight loss maintenance success that do not use a number or percentage, or descriptive terms that convey a quantitative measure such as "most of our customers maintain their weight loss long-term," respondent may, in lieu of the disclosures required in C.(1)-(3) above,

(i) Include, clearly and prominently, and in immediate conjunction with such representation, the statement: "Check at our centers for details about our maintenance record."; and

(ii) For a period of time beginning with the date of the first dissemination or broadcast of any such advertisement and ending no sooner than thirty (30) days after the last dissemination or broadcast of such advertisement, give to each potential participant, by following the procedures set out in Appendix A, a printed document containing all the information required by paragraph I.B and subparagraphs I.C(1)-(3) of this order;

Provided, further, that compliance with the obligations of this paragraph I.C in no way relieves respondent of the requirement under paragraph I.A of this order to substantiate any representation about the success of participants on any weight loss program in maintaining weight loss;

Provided, however, that in determining the success of participants in maintaining weight loss, respondent may exclude those participants who dropped out of the program within two weeks of their entrance or who were unable to complete the program due to change of residence or medical reasons, such as pregnancy;

D. Using any advertisement containing an endorsement or testimonial about weight loss success or weight loss maintenance success by a participant or participants of respondent's weight loss program if the weight loss success or weight loss maintenance success depicted in the advertisement is not representative of what participants of respondent's weight loss programs generally achieve, unless respondent discloses, clearly and prominently, and in close proximity to the endorser's statement of his or her weight loss success or weight loss maintenance success:

(1) What the generally expected success would be for Weight Watchers customers in losing weight or maintaining achieved weight loss; provided, however, that in determining the generally expected success for Weight Watchers customers, respondent may exclude those customers who dropped out of the program within two weeks of their entrance or who were unable to complete the program due to change of residence or medical reasons, such as pregnancy; and that for endorsements or testimonials about weight loss success, respondent can satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph by accurately disclosing:

(a) The generally expected success for Weight Watchers customers in the following phrase: "Weight loss averages (number) lbs. over __ weeks"; or

(b) (i) The average number of pounds lost by Weight Watchers customers, using the following phrase: "Average weight loss (number) lbs. More details at centers"; and

(ii) For a period of time beginning with the date of the first dissemination or broadcast of any such advertisement and ending no sooner than thirty (30) days after the last dissemination or broadcast of such advertisement, give to each potential participant, by following the procedures set out in Appendix B, a printed document containing what the generally expected success would be for Weight Watchers customers in losing weight, expressed in terms of both average number of pounds lost and average duration of participation in the Weight Watchers program, or,

(2) The limited applicability of the endorser's experience to what consumers may generally expect to achieve; i.e., that consumers should not expect to experience similar results;

provided, however, that a truthful statement that merely describes the existence, design, or content of a weight maintenance or weight management program or notes that the program teaches participants how to manage their weight, or which states either through the endorser or in nearby copy that under the program "weight loss maintenance is possible," or words to that effect, will not, without more, be considered for purposes of this paragraph a representation regarding weight loss maintenance success or trigger the need for separate or additional maintenance disclosures required by other paragraphs of the order;

Provided, further, that:

(i) A representation about maintenance by an endorser that states a number or percentage, or uses descriptive terms that convey a quantitative measure, such as "I have kept off most of my weight loss for 2 years," shall be considered a representation regarding weight loss maintenance success; and

(ii) If endorsements or testimonials covered by this paragraph are made in a broadcast medium, any disclosure required by this paragraph must be communicated in a clear and prominent manner and in immediate conjunction with the representation that triggers the disclosure.

E. Making comparisons between the efficacy or success of one or more of respondent's weight loss programs and the efficacy or success of any other weight loss program(s), including but not limited to any other of respondent's weight loss programs, unless, at the time of making such representation, respondent possesses and relies upon competent and reliable evidence, which when appropriate must be competent and reliable scientific evidence, that substantiates the representation.

F. Making any representation, directly or by implication, about the rate or speed at which any participant in any weight loss program has experienced or will experience weight loss, unless true.

G. Making any representation, directly or by implication, about the existence, contents, validity, results, conclusions, or interpretations of any test, study, or survey, unless true.

H. Making any representation, directly or by implication, about the performance or efficacy of any weight loss program, unless true.

II.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall notify the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of any proposed change in the corporate respondent such as dissolution, assignment, or sale resulting in the emergence of a successor corporation(s), the creation or dissolution of subsidiaries, or any other change in the corporation(s) that may affect compliance obligations arising out of this order.

III.

It is further ordered, That for three (3) years after the last date of dissemination of any representation covered by this order, respondent, or its successors and assigns, shall maintain and upon request make available to the Federal Trade Commission for inspection and copying:

A. All materials that were relied upon in disseminating such representation; and

B. All tests, reports, studies, surveys, demonstrations, or other evidence in its possession or control that contradict, qualify, or call into question such representation, or the basis relied upon for such representation, including complaints from consumers.

IV.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall, within ten (10) days after the service of this order, distribute a copy of this order to each of its officers, agents, representatives, independent contractors, and employees involved in the preparation and placement of advertisements or promotional materials, and to its regional managers; and distribute to those having point of sale responsibilities under the order, written instructions implementing the point of sale obligations of the orders; and, for a period of five (5) years from the date of service of this order, distribute same to all future such officers, agents, representatives, independent contractors, employees, and regional managers.

V.

It is further ordered, That:

A. Respondent shall use its best efforts to obtain its weight loss program franchisees' and licensees' compliance with this order by doing the following:

(1) Respondent shall, within forty-five (45) days after service of this order, distribute a copy of this order to each of its weight loss program franchisees or licensees, return receipt requested;

(2) Respondent shall review advertising and promotional materials submitted to it from its franchisees or licensees prior to dissemination and publication to determine compliance with the requirements of this order;

(3) Respondent shall notify any franchisee or licensee in writing if any advertising or promotional material does not comply with the requirements of this order and that it should not be disseminated or published;

(4) Respondent shall monitor franchisee and licensee advertising and where it finds advertising that has not been submitted to it and which it believes is not in compliance with the requirements of this order, it will notify such franchisee or licensee in writing of its findings and that such advertising should be withdrawn;

(5) Respondent shall maintain separate files for each franchisee or licensee containing a copy of the signed receipt and copies of any correspondence relating to any advertising and promotional materials with respect to the issues raised by this order for a period of three (3) years;

(6) Upon request, respondent shall make these files available to the Commission staff for inspection and copying; and

(7) Where this order provides for the distribution of documents containing certain information to participants, respondent shall include such information in "Program" materials which its franchisees or licensees are required to supply to each participant.

B. Respondent shall include in all future weight loss program franchise or license agreements with new franchisees or licensees a requirement that the franchisee or licensee operate its business in full compliance with the prohibitions and affirmative requirements imposed on respondent pursuant to Part I of the Commission's order; provided further, for purposes of this part of the order, the term "new franchisees or licensees" means those who are not franchised or licensed to conduct any weight loss program, or those who do not own or control such franchisees or licensees, at the time the order becomes final.

VI.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after the date of service of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

VII.

It is further ordered, That this order will terminate twenty (20) years from the date of its issuance, or twenty (20) years from the most recent date that the United States or the Federal Trade Commission files a complaint (with or without an accompanying consent decree) in federal court alleging any violation of the order, whichever comes later; provided, however, that the filing of such a complaint will not affect the duration of:

A. Any paragraph in this order that terminates in less than twenty (20) years; and

B. This order if such complaint is filed after the order has terminated pursuant to this paragraph.

Provided further, that if such complaint is dismissed or a federal court rules that the respondent did not violate any provision of the order, and the dismissal or ruling is either not appealed or upheld on appeal, then the order will terminate according to this paragraph as though the complaint was never filed, except that the order will not terminate between the date such complaint is filed and the later of the deadline for appealing such dismissal or ruling and the date such dismissal or ruling is upheld on appeal.

Re: Petition of Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc., to Quash Subpoena Duces Tecum.
 Hoechst AG, File No. 971-0055.

October 17, 1997

Dear Mr. Spears:

This is to advise you of the ruling of the Federal Trade Commission ("Commission") on the Petition of Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc. to Quash ("Petition") filed on May 1, 1997, in the above-referenced matter.¹ The Petition seeks to quash a subpoena duces tecum ("Subpoena") issued by the Commission on March 26, 1997.²

The ruling set forth herein has been made by Commissioner Roscoe B. Starek, III, pursuant to authority delegated under Commission Rule of Practice 2.7(d)(4), 16 CFR 2.7(d)(4). Commissioner Starek has carefully reviewed the Petition, the accompanying exhibits, and the Declaration of Mr. Edward Stratemeier, General Counsel of HMRI ("the Stratemeier Declaration" or "the Declaration"). He has also considered the oral presentation on the Petition made on June 18, 1997, and the supplement to the Petition filed on June 24, 1997 ("Pet. Supp."). The Petition is granted in part and denied in part for the reasons stated below.

¹ After granting several extensions of time to file a petition to quash, pursuant to Commission Rule of Practice 2.7(d)(3), 16 CFR 2.7(d)(3), the staff insisted that any such petition be filed by April 30, 1997. Petitioner filed a timely petition to quash on that date, and another version on May 1, 1997. The cover letter to the May 1 version stated that it corrected typographical and other errors found in the previous day's version and provided information about negotiations on April 30, 1997, with Commission staff to modify the Subpoena. The May 1 cover letter requested that the May 1 version be accepted for filing as a corrected copy. The Commission has determined to accept the May 1 version in substitution for the timely Petition filed on April 30, 1997.

² Although the Subpoena was addressed to Hoechst AG ("Hoechst") in care of Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc. ("HMRI" or "Petitioner") -- a subsidiary of Hoechst with its North American headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri -- the Petition was filed only on behalf of HMRI. HMRI falls within the definition of "Hoechst" or "The Company" found in Definition A of the Subpoena. Because the Subpoena and the Petition are aimed primarily at documents in the possession of HMRI (including the files of HMRI's predecessor entities and of its agents and attorneys), the Commission has determined to consider the Petition insofar as it relates to those materials. The Commission declines, however, to accept the Petition's implicit assertion that only HMRI and not other Hoechst entities are subject to the Commission's Order and the Subpoena.

I. BACKGROUND

Hoechst, HMRI, and various officers, employees, affiliates and other subsidiaries of Hoechst are bound by a Commission Decision and Order issued on December 5, 1995, in Hoechst AG, Docket No. C-3629 ("the order").³ The order, which resolved the Commission's investigation of Hoechst's acquisition of Marion Merrell Dow, Inc., addressed concerns that the acquisition would lessen competition in four product markets, including, as relevant here, the market for the manufacture and sale of diltiazem hydrochloride used in the treatment of hypertension or angina. Among its other requirements, the order obligated Hoechst to grant Biovail Research Corporation ("Biovail") -- a research firm with which Hoechst had been developing diltiazem prior to the acquisition -- a right to refer to certain scientific data about diltiazem in FDA applications (order ¶ II.A.1) and prohibited Hoechst from instituting any patent infringement action against Biovail with respect to any "Biovail Diltiazem Products" (a term defined in order ¶ II.A.3).

On March 18, 1997, the Commission issued a Resolution Authorizing the Use of Compulsory Process in an investigation intended "[t]o determine whether respondent Hoechst AG is violating or has violated the order in Docket No. C-3629." On March 24, 1997, as part of this compliance investigation, the Commission issued the Subpoena challenged by HMRI's Petition.

A. HMRI's claim that the Commission's resolution authorizing the Subpoena is fatally flawed because HMRI cannot have violated the order.

HMRI argues -- most clearly in the supplement to its Petition -- that the resolution authorizing compulsory process in this matter is "fatally flawed" and that therefore the Subpoena must be quashed. The crux of HMRI's argument is that the resolution authorizes an investigation only of whether "HMRI" is violating or has violated the order and, moreover, does not authorize an investigation of contemplated or anticipated conduct.⁴ HMRI contends further that the "objective facts of this case" make it facially obvious that HMRI could not have violated -- and is not now violating -- the order provisions with which the investigation is concerned (§§ II.A.1 & II.A.3). Therefore, HMRI suggests, the Subpoena is not supported by a valid resolution and must be quashed. See Pet. Supp. at 4-5.

³ The definition of the respondent "Hoechst" is set forth in paragraph I.A of the order.

To be valid, a compulsory process resolution need only (1) establish the agency's statutory authority to conduct the inquiry and (2) announce the purpose and scope of the investigation with sufficient specificity to allow a determination of whether the information sought is reasonably relevant to the stated purpose. FTC v. Invention Submission Corp., 965 F.2d 1086, 1090 (D.C. Cir. 1992), cert. denied, 507 U.S. 910 (1993); FTC v. Carter, 636 F.2d 781, 788 (D.C. Cir. 1980); FTC v. Texaco, Inc., 555 F.2d 862, 874 & n.26 (D.C. Cir.) (en banc), cert. denied, 431 U.S. 974 (1977); see also RNR Enterprises, Inc. v. SEC, 1997 U.S. App. Lexis 12174 (2d Cir. May 22, 1997). The resolution at issue here announces an investigation to determine whether the named respondent to a specific cease and desist order has violated or is violating that order. As HMRI concedes, it is clear beyond question that the Commission has authority to investigate compliance with its orders. Pet. Supp. at 4 n.1; United States v. Morton Salt Co., 338 U.S. 632, 651 (1950).

Although it characterizes the resolution as flawed, HMRI does not actually challenge the resolution, HMRI concedes the Commission's authority to investigate compliance with its orders, does not challenge the legality of the resolution itself, and does not assert that the resolution fails to describe this inquiry adequately. Rather, HMRI argues that, as a factual matter, it cannot be violating or have violated the order -- as HMRI interprets the order -- and thus HMRI concludes that the "real" purpose of the investigation must be something other than its announced purpose. Pet. Supp. at 4 & n.1. As will be discussed in Part II.B, infra, the Subpoena (as modified by the instant ruling) seeks information reasonably relevant to the investigation of possible violations of the order properly announced by the resolution.

B. HMRI's contention that the information sought by the Subpoena is irrelevant to an investigation of order violations because HMRI cannot have violated the order and because, both as a matter of law and under binding Commission regulations, documents reflecting interpretations of the order are irrelevant.

HMRI correctly states that the resolution announces an investigation of possible order violations and argues that it cannot have violated order paragraph II.A.1 or II.A.3. Therefore, HMRI claims, the information sought by the Subpoena is by definition irrelevant because it is "impossible" for a violation to have occurred. Pet. Supp. at 4 & n.1. Although the resolution authorizes a potentially broader investigation than that depicted by HMRI, Petitioner is correct that Subpoena Specifications 1-4 and 6-11 focus on information relating to Hoechst's (and thus HMRI's) compliance obligations under order paragraph II.⁵

Contrary to Petitioner's argument, however, it is not "impossible" for Hoechst entities to have violated the order. Paragraph II.A.1 imposed an obligation on Hoechst to provide, within seven days after the order became final, a "right of reference" to Biovail that allows Biovail to use certain Hoechst scientific data to obtain FDA approval to manufacture and market certain drugs. HMRI interprets this provision extremely narrowly, asserts that it has complied with its own interpretation, and argues that any obligation to provide a broader right of reference can be triggered only by a future request from Biovail. See Pet. Supp. at 5-6. It is not necessary to resolve dispositively the merits of HMRI's reading of paragraph II.A.1 to see that HMRI's narrow interpretation appears to neglect the order's unconditional requirement that the right of reference be provided within seven days after the order became final.⁶ Whether Hoechst's (and HMRI's) conduct to date has violated order paragraph II.A.1 is a factual question whose resolution should be advanced by the information sought by the Subpoena.

HMRI also argues that the Subpoena seeks internal documents reflecting subjective interpretations of the order and that, as a matter of law, those documents are irrelevant to the construction of the order. In HMRI's view, judicial precedent on the construction of consent orders establishes that documents reflecting a party's subjective interpretations are irrelevant to the construction of an administrative consent order.

⁵ It is unnecessary to consider Specification 5 of the Subpoena, which seeks documents discussing plans that Hoechst is considering, has considered, or has determined to implement (or not to implement) if Biovail files a new drug application or an abbreviated new drug application ("ANDA") with the FDA for approval of a formulation of once-a-day diltiazem other than Tiazac. An important purpose of Specification 5 was to discover documents relating to Hoechst's intention to file suit against Biovail, given that such a suit could delay FDA action on an ANDA for up to 30 months. See 21 U.S.C. 355 (j) (4) (B) (iii). Since the Subpoena was served on Hoechst, Biovail has filed an ANDA with the FDA for such a drug, but Hoechst has not filed suit against Biovail within the period prescribed by statute. Accordingly, there is not evident need for the information sought by Specification 5.

HMRI's argument on this point, however, focuses entirely on what, if anything, a court might properly rely on as extrinsic evidence in interpreting the order. HMRI's position ignores the range of other information -- whether or not ultimately admissible in court -- that is relevant to the Commission's pending pre-complaint investigation. The Commission has broad authority to gather relevant information to determine whether a respondent has violated an order issued by the Commission and whether enforcement action would be in the public interest. In United States v. Morton Salt Co., 338 U.S. 632, 642-43 (1950), the Supreme Court distinguished between the limited scope of judicial subpoenas and the Commission's power to gather information:

The only power that is involved here is the power to get information from those who best can give it and who are most interested in not doing so. Because judicial power is reluctant if not unable to summon evidence until it is shown to be relevant to issues in litigation, it does not follow that an administrative agency changed with seeing that the laws are enforced may not have and exercise powers of original inquiry. It has a power of inquisition, if one chooses to call it that, which is not derived from the judicial function. It is more analogous to the Grand Jury, which does not depend on a case or controversy for power to get evidence but can investigate merely on suspicion that the law is being violated, or even because it wants assurance that it is not.

A Commission investigatory subpoena will be enforced if the documents are "not plainly irrelevant" to the investigative purpose. FTC v. Carter, supra, 636 F.2d at 788, citing SEC v. Arthur Young & Co., 584 F.2d 1018, 1029 (D.C. Cir. 1978), cert. denied, 439 U.S. 1071 (1979). It is the respondent's burden to show that the requested information is irrelevant. FTC v. Invention Submission Corp., supra, 965 F.2d at 1090. In the current, pre-complaint stage of a nonpublic investigation, there is no requirement that the documents sought be admissible in a hypothetical judicial proceeding to prove some potential charge or complaint; all that is required is that the information sought be relevant to a determination of whether the law has been violated and whether the Commission should exercise its prosecutorial discretion to proceed. FTC v. Texaco, Inc., supra, 555 F.2d at 874 & nn.24-25. See also Moore Business Forms, Inc. v. FTC, 307 F.2d 188 (D.C. Cir. 1962) (court enforced subpoena over contention that documents were "meaningless" to any theory of violation, where the agency had not yet formulated a ruling on the factual question raised by the company).

Alternatively, HMRI argues that the Commission may not subpoena internal company documents discussing the meaning or interpretation of the order because Commission Rule 2.32, 16 CFR 2.32, requires that all consent agreements contain language stating that no agreement, understanding, representation, or interpretation not contained in the order or the aforementioned [consent] agreement may be used to vary or to contradict the terms of the order.

But by its terms, Rule 2.32 is not a limitation on investigative activities but is merely guidance to the staff on certain waivers, procedures, and other "boilerplate" language that should appear in Commission orders. Obviously, the Commission must seek to define what materials it asserts are relevant in ascertaining the meaning of its orders. As relevant here, Rule 2.32 prohibits "sidebar" agreements and routine reference to extrinsic materials and declares the Commission's general policy with respect to the use of extrinsic materials. HMRI's Rule 2.32 argument -- like its argument about documents reflecting subjective order interpretations -- confuses relevance in an investigation with ultimate probative value in litigation. Nothing in Rule 2.32 bars the Commission from seeking records that may demonstrate an intent to violate the order, constitute admissions, or otherwise bear on the penalty or other remedy that should be sought.

Moreover, the agency's remedy for most order violations is to file a civil penalty action in federal court. No matter what HMRI or the Commission may think about the clarity of the order, a court called upon to judge Hoechst's order compliance -- particularly a court not convinced that the order is unambiguous -- may determine to consider extrinsic evidence to interpret the order.⁷ Reviewing courts have considered a broad range of evidence to determine the correct interpretation of ambiguous consent orders. See United States v. ITT Continental Baking Co., 420 U.S. 223 (1975) (compliant and negotiating history); Dr. Pepper/Seven-Up Companies, Inc. v. FTC, 151 F.R.D. 483 (D.D.C. 1993) (Commission's complaint, negotiating history, and internal legal memoranda); United States v. American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, 782 F. Supp. 778

(S.D.N.Y. 1991) (negotiating history, internal legal memoranda, and post-decree conduct of parties to decree). In employing its broad investigative authority in aid of its exercise of prosecutorial discretion, the Commission is entitled to subpoena information that might ultimately be cited or relied on in a federal court proceeding to redress order violations.

HMRI's arguments and admissions themselves demonstrate the relevance of the information sought by the Subpoena. Order paragraphs II.A.1 and II.A.3 use the term "Biovail Diltiazem Products," which paragraph I.J defines to include once-a-day diltiazem formulations that Hoechst was developing with Biovail. HMRI contends that Tiazac is the only "Biovail Diltiazem Product," and that accordingly Hoechst has already performed all obligations imposed by paragraph II.A.1 respecting the grant of a right of reference to Biovail.⁸ Pet. Supp. at 5. HMRI nonetheless concedes that some inquiry into the HMRI/Biovail relationship is relevant to a determination of which products were developed under the Hoechst/Biovail relationship. Id. at 10-11. Plainly HMRI and the staff disagree over the meaning of the term "Biovail Diltiazem Products" and the potential scope of Hoechst's obligations under the order. As limited by this ruling -- and as explained in Part II.C, infra -- the Subpoena seeks information relevant to clarification of those issues.

C. HMRI's argument that the Subpoena is unlimited in scope and imposes an undue burden.

HMRI takes the position that the Subpoena requires a search of literally hundreds of entities, including its affiliates and subsidiaries, its law firms, and a variety of entities in which it has an ownership interest. The Petition also argues that the Subpoena covers an unnecessarily broad time period, extending beyond the period of its relationship with Biovail. In support of these contentions, HMRI filed the Declaration of Mr. Stratemeier. That Declaration detailed the scope of the search required to comply with the Subpoena. Mr. Stratemeier also represented under oath that HMRI had collected the files of its predecessor or acquired entities (Marion Merrell Dow and ⁸ Paragraph I.J of the order defines "Biovail Diltiazem Products" as: the sustained release and/or extended release diltiazem products that Hoechst was developing with Biovail pursuant to the Rights Agreement that Hoechst and Biovail entered into on June 30, 1993.

This definition appears by its terms to encompass multiple products, raising a threshold obstacle to HMRI's argument that Tiazac was the sole "Biovail Diltiazem Product."

Hoechst Roussel Pharmaceuticals, Inc.), as well as the files of specific responsible individuals identified by name,⁹ and that those files were being maintained in the possession of HMRI when Mr. Stratemeier executed his Declaration.

When the Commission's need for relevant documents to complete its law enforcement investigation is balanced against the burden that would be imposed on HMRI and other Hoechst entities, it appears that the Declaration -- in combination with factual developments that occurred after all papers were filed in this matter¹⁰ -- provides a basis for some narrowing of the Subpoena. In addition, it appears that a search for some records may be unnecessary and, accordingly, may at a minimum be deferred until the staff has reviewed the initial wave of production and determined whether a further search is required.

Essentially, the Declaration suggests that all relevant responsive documents are in HMRI's possession. At the oral presentation before Commissioner Starek, however, Mr. Spears of Gadsby & Hannah (representing HMRI) agreed that responsive factual documents were also likely to be in the possession of either his law firm or Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom ("Skadden Arps"), HMRI's counsel in their merger investigation that culminated in the Commission's issuance of the order.¹¹ Moreover, the staff may ultimately need documents created or prepared by Skadden Arps lawyers or employees (subject to specific privilege claims) to complete its inquiry.

Nevertheless, it appears acceptable to defer any search for Skadden Arps internal materials -- as distinguished from Hoechst-generated documents in that law firm's possession -- until the staff has reviewed material received from Hoechst and HMRI material and determined whether information from other sources would advance the investigation.¹² Accordingly, the required search is divided into two successive phases and limited as follows:

PHASE I: Production in this phase may be limited to (a) all responsive documents or portions of documents in the possession or custody of HMRI; (b) all responsive documents or portions of documents in all files of all individuals identified in the Stratemeier Declaration, wherever those individuals' files are located within ⁹ Stratemeier Dec. ¶¶ 5, 9-10.

¹⁰ See note 5, supra.

¹¹ Transcript of Oral Presentation at 49 (June 18, 1997).

¹² In addition, Specification 8 is limited to require only the production of documents that discuss joint development of once-a-day diltiazem formulations by Biovail and Hoechst entities or their predecessors. Petitioner need not produce documents that discuss only Biovail's unilateral development activities or activities involving third parties.

Hoechst (as "Hoechst" is defined in the Subpoena); (c) all responsive documents or portions of documents in all files of Marion Merrell Dow and Hoechst Roussel Pharmaceuticals, Inc., identified in the Stratemeier Declaration; (d) all responsive Hoechst-generated documents or portions of Hoechst-generated documents in the possession, custody, or control of Gadsby & Hannah or Skadden Arps.

PHASE II: If the staff determines it to be necessary, the production will also include all responsive documents or portions of documents in the possession, custody, or control of Skadden Arps, except for responsive documents produced during Phase I or listed in a privilege log during Phase I.¹³

Moreover, as noted above,¹⁴ events that occurred after the filing of the Petition have obviated any immediate search for information on HMRI's intention (if any) to file a patent infringement action against Biovail. Accordingly, Specification 5 is eliminated.¹⁵

HMRI suggests further that, in the event the Commission does not quash the Subpoena, the time period which Biovail and Hoechst Roussel Pharmaceuticals, Inc., had a development relationship (i.e., June 30, 1993, to August 25, 1995). Pet. Supp. at 11 n.10. HMRI argues that documents dated or generated before the beginning or after the end of that period are irrelevant.

On the contrary, the period between January 1, 1993, and June 30, 1993 is relevant to this investigation. HMRI concedes that the relationship between Biovail and Hoechst Roussel Pharmaceuticals, Inc., is a legitimate area of inquiry, Pet. Supp. at 10-11, and responsive documents generated or prepared during the six months during which that relationship was formulated are relevant. Documents generated or prepared during the period immediately following the termination of the relationship are also relevant. In addition, Specifications 1 and 3 seek, inter alia, documents relating to HMRI's attempt to limit the right of reference in letters sent to the FDA in July and October 1996. Whether this limitation violated the order is obviously relevant to this investigation. As to these two Specifications, therefore, the first 11 months of 1996 are also relevant.

¹³ HMRI may file a further petition to quash within 10 days after service on it of any written request by the staff to conduct the Phase II search.

¹⁴ See note 5, supra.

¹⁵ Although Petitioner need not produce information called for by Specification 5 regarding litigation plans, other specifications of the Subpoena seek information about Hoechst's compliance obligations under order paragraph II.A.3, which prohibits the filing of patent infringement suits against Biovail relating to the "Biovail Diltiazem Products." Because, as HMRI concedes, there is a legitimate basis for seeking information about the meaning and scope of "Biovail Diltiazem Products" (defined in paragraph I.J), documents discussing compliance obligations under paragraph II.A.3 are relevant even if specific violations of that paragraph may not have occurred. Compliance with those other Subpoena specifications is therefore required (as modified and limited by the instant ruling).

Accordingly, Instruction 2 of the Subpoena is modified by (1) deleting from the first sentence the phrase "on or after January 1, 1993" and substituting therefor the phrase "during the period January 1, 1993, through December 31, 1995"; (2) deleting the second sentence; and (3) adding the following as a new second sentence: "As they relate to Hoechst's actual or potential obligations under paragraph II.A.1 of the order, however, Specifications 1 and 3 cover documents dated, generated, received, or, if a contract or agreement, in effect during the period January 1, 1993, through November 30, 1996."

D. HMRI's claim that the Subpoena is directed at its counsel's files and improperly fails to provide adequate safeguards for proper assertion of the attorney-client and attorney work product privileges.

Finally, Hoechst contends that the Subpoena must be quashed because it seeks documents from the files of Hoechst's in-house and outside counsel that may contain information protected by the attorney-client and attorney work product privileges. Essentially, HMRI argues that the Subpoena is directed primarily at attorneys' files and thus should be quashed absent a demonstration of need.

This argument is obviated by the modifications set forth in Part II.C, supra. The initial phase of the search does not require any search of outside law firms' files for anything except documents generated by employees of Hoechst or of HMRI.¹⁶ Specification 5 (seeking information on litigation plans) is withdrawn, and (with some exceptions) no document generated after the last day of 1995 is sought. No further search of Gadsby & Hannah's files is required. A Phase II search of Skadden Arps's files will be required only if further information is needed after Phase I production is reviewed.

HMRI also argues that it need not produce a privilege log. HMRI bases this claim both on the Subpoena's allegedly sweeping nature and on the proposition that Subpoena Instruction 7 requires so much information that filing a log fully compliant with that instruction would divulge privileged information. But because HMRI's objection to the Subpoena's reach (Pet. Supp. at 14-15) was based on the scope of Definition A -- which defined the "Hoechst" entities to be searched -- and on Specification 5 -- which sought current litigation plans -- HMRI's first argument is obviated by the Subpoena modifications discussed above. The scope of the search has been limited, Specification 5 has been withdrawn, and no recently created documents are sought.

With regard to HMRI's second ground for objecting to production of a privilege log, the Commission's Rules of Practice, in accord with judicial precedent, require a party seeking to withhold documents or other evidence on the basis of privilege to provide sufficient underlying facts to establish its privilege claim. See 16 CFR 2.8A. The burden is on Hoechst "to present the underlying facts demonstrating the existence of privilege." FTC v. Shaffner, 626 F.2d 32, 37 (7th Cir. 1980); accord, United States v. Construction Products Research, Inc., 73 F.3d 464, 473 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 117 S. Ct. 294 (1996). Hoechst's blanket assertion of attorney-client and work product privileges is insufficient to satisfy its burden. FTC v. Shaffner, 626 F.2d at 37.

Hoechst also claims that the Commission has failed to make an allegedly required showing of need to compel the production of privileged documents.¹⁷ This argument is unavailing: the Subpoena does not require the production of privileged documents. Rather, the Subpoena requires Hoechst to produce all responsive non-privileged documents, non-privileged portions of documents that contain some allegedly privileged information, and a privilege log. The purposes of the privilege log are to identify the responsive documents (or portions of documents) that Hoechst claims are privileged and to provide sufficient information about those privilege claims to equip the Commission to assess and, if necessary, challenge the validity of questionable claims.

Instruction 7 of the Subpoena is entirely consistent with Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26(b) (5) and 45 (d) (2). Instruction 7 explicitly states that although the description of a withheld document must be sufficient to allow the Commission to assess the validity of the privilege, HMRI need not disclose any privileged information or communication. As Federal Rules 26(b) (5) and 45 (d) (2) emphasize, a proper assertion of privilege must describe the nature of the allegedly privileged document or communication and provide sufficient information to allow the party seeking the information to contest the claim. United States v. Construction Products Research, Inc., supra, 73 F.3d at 473-74 (party asserting attorney-client or work-product privilege must supply a specific explanation of why each document is privileged and affidavits or evidence establishing existence of privileged relationship, if existence of privileged relationship is not facially obvious). HMRI's failure to provide the required information at the times specified below for compliance will waive its privilege claims. See Dorf & Stanton Communications v. Molson Breweries, 100 F.3d 919, 922-23 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 117 S. Ct. 2455 (1997).

III. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Petition is granted in part and denied in part, and, pursuant to Rule 2.7(e), 16 CFR 2.7(e), Hoechst is directed to comply with Phase I production pursuant to the Subpoena, as modified, on or before October 31, 1997, and to produce by that date any privilege log that it chooses to submit in compliance with Instruction 7 of the Subpoena. Phase II production (if any is required), including submission of any privilege log, will occur 30 days after receipt by HMRI of a written instruction from the Assistant Director for Compliance, Bureau of Competition, to produce Phase II documents.

Pursuant to Rule 2.7(f), 16 CFR 2.7(f), within three days after service of this decision, Petitioner may file with the Secretary of the Commission a request for full Commission review. The filing of such a request shall not stay the return date in this ruling unless the Commission otherwise specifies.

Re: Request of Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc., for Full Commission Review of Ruling on Petition to Quash Subpoena. Hoechst AG, File No. 971-0055.

November 19, 1997

Dear Mr. Spears:

The Commission has considered (1) the Petition filed on behalf of Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc. ("HMRI"), and other Hoechst entities to quash the pending subpoena duces tecum in the above-referenced matter ("the Subpoena"); (2) the transcript of the oral presentation on the Petition made on June 18, 1997; (3) the supplement to the Petition filed on June 24, 1997; (4) the October 17, 1997, ruling by Compulsory Process Commissioner Starek, granting the Petition in part and denying it in part ("the October 17 ruling"); (5) the specifications of the Subpoena, as modified by the October 17 ruling; and (6) your client's request for full Commission review of that ruling.

You ask that the Commission hear oral argument on review of the October 17 ruling. The Commission denies that request. There is no legal requirement that the Commission hear oral argument on petitions to quash subpoenas. FTC v. Hallmark Cards, Inc., 265 F.2d 433 (7th Cir. 1959). Moreover, there was ample opportunity to make an oral presentation before Commissioner Starek, and the 59-page transcript of that presentation is before the Commission.

The Commission has determined that the request for review raises no issues that were not fully considered and discussed in the October 17 ruling. Upon review of all the material noted above, the Commission concurs in and adopts the October 17 ruling.

In determining to order enforcement of the Subpoena as modified, the Commission wishes to address a misunderstanding that has arisen in your request for full Commission review.¹ Your request states HMRI's understanding that it need not produce any privilege log until it has exhausted all judicial appeals on its contention that some subpoenaed documents are irrelevant to the investigation.² On the contrary, the October 17 ruling clearly required HMRI to produce the privilege log(s) called for by Instruction 7 of the Subpoena at the times specified for compliance with the Subpoena.³ The Commission rejects the apparent suggestion that HMRI may contest enforcement on one legal ground (relevance) and then -- after the exhaustion of appeals from a federal court order rejecting HMRI's relevance arguments and ordering enforcement -- may recommence litigation on its privilege claims. The Commission is entitled to the logs on the date(s) ordered for compliance with the Subpoena, so that it can determine whether to challenge the privilege claims in any enforcement action that may be necessary. See Commission Rule 2.13. Therefore, the Commission will deem waived any assertion of privilege that is not made (and perfected with all supporting exhibits or affidavits) by the dates for compliance set forth below.

¹ The Commission also notes that there is an error in Attachment C to your request, which is a CompareRite that you created to reflect the modifications to the Subpoena made by the October 17 ruling. The last sentence of Instruction 2 (both in its original version and as it appears in your CompareRite) was deleted by the October 17 ruling. Therefore, the Subpoena is no longer continuing in nature.

By letter dated October 31, 1997, Commissioner Starek granted your request to stay compliance obligations pending a ruling by the full Commission. Commission Rule 2.7(f). The Commission hereby directs that on or before December 3, 1997, Hoechst (1) comply with Phase I production pursuant to the Subpoena, as modified, and (2) produce any accompanying privilege log in compliance with Instruction 7 of the Subpoena. Phase II production (if any is required), including the submission of any privilege log, will occur 30 days after receipt by HMRI of a written instruction from the Assistant Director for Compliance, Bureau of Competition, to produce Phase II documents.
