IN THE MATTER OF

CONTRACT LOGIX, LLCCONSENT ORDER, ETC. IN REGARD TO ALLEGED VIOLATION OF SECTION 5 OF THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION ACT.Docket C-4541; File No. 152 3184Complaint, September 29, 2015 – Decision, September 29, 2015

This consent order addresses Contract Logix, LLC’s misleading representation of their participation in the Safe Harbor privacy framework agreed upon by the U.S. and the European Union (“EU”). Contract Logix, LLC describes its business as providing contract management software and associated services. The Commission’s complaint alleges that Contract Logix, LLC falsely represented that it was a “current” participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework when, in fact, from August 2012 until May 2015, Contract Logix, LLC was not a “current” participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. The company’s predecessor in interest had submitted its self-certification to the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, but that self-certification had lapsed. Commerce subsequently updated the company’s status to “not current” on its public website. The consent order prohibits Forensics Consulting Solutions, LLC from making misrepresentations about its membership in any privacy or security program sponsored by the government or any other self-regulatory or standard-setting organization, including, but not limited to, the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. As well as, requiring Contract Logix, LLC to supply and retain documents relating to their compliance with the Order for a five-year period. The proposed order mandates that Contract Logix, LLC submit an initial compliance report to the FTC, and make available to the FTC subsequent reports.

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that Contract Logix, LLC, a limited liability company, has violated the Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), and it appearing to the Commission that this proceeding is in the public interest, alleges:

Complaint

1. Respondent Contract Logix, LLC (“Contract Logix”) is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal office or place of business at 248 Mill Road, Chelmsford, Massachusetts. In August 2012, respondent acquired the assets of Contract Logix, Inc., a corporation with its principal office or place of business at the same address. Respondent acquired, inter alia, the website www.contractlogix.com and has operated that website since August 2012.

2. Respondent Contract Logix describes the business it offers on contractlogix.com as providing contract management software and associated services.

3. The acts and practices of respondent as alleged in this complaint have been in or affecting commerce, as “commerce” is defined in Section 4 of the FTC Act.

4. Respondent has set forth on its website, www.contractlogix.com, privacy policies and statements about its practices, including statements related to its participation in the Safe Harbor privacy framework agreed upon by the U.S. and the European Union (“U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework”).

The Safe Harbor Framework

5. The U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework provides a method for U.S. companies to transfer personal data outside of Europe that is consistent with the requirements of the European Union Directive on Data Protection (“Directive”). Enacted in 1995, the Directive sets forth European Union (“EU”) requirements for privacy and the protection of personal data. Among other things, it requires EU Member States to implement legislation that prohibits the transfer of personal data outside the EU, with exceptions, unless the European Commission (“EC”) has made a determination that the recipient jurisdiction’s laws ensure the protection of such personal data. This determination is referred to commonly as meeting the EU’s “adequacy” standard.

6. To satisfy the EU adequacy standard for certain commercial transfers, the U.S. Department of Commerce (“Commerce”) and the EC negotiated the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, which went into effect in 2000. The U.S.-EU Safe

Harbor Framework allows U.S. companies to transfer personal data lawfully from the EU. To join the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, a company must self-certify to Commerce that it complies with seven principles and related requirements that have been deemed to meet the EU's adequacy standard.

7. The seven principles are: notice, choice, onward transfer, security, data integrity, access, and enforcement. Among other things, the enforcement principle requires companies to provide a readily available and affordable independent recourse mechanism to investigate and resolve an individual's complaints and disputes.

8. Companies under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"), as well as the U.S. Department of Transportation, are eligible to join the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. A company under the FTC's jurisdiction that claims it has self-certified to the Safe Harbor principles, but failed to self-certify to Commerce, may be subject to an enforcement action based on the FTC's deception authority under Section 5 of the FTC Act.

9. Commerce maintains a public website, www.export.gov/safeharbor, where it posts the names of companies that have self-certified to the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. The listing of companies indicates whether their self-certification is "current" or "not current" and a date when recertification is due. Companies are required to re-certify every year in order to retain their status as current members of the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework.

Violations of Section 5 of the FTC Act

Misrepresentations Regarding Safe Harbor Participation

10. In July 2010, Contract Logix, Inc. submitted to Commerce a self-certification of compliance with the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework.

11. In July 2012, Contract Logix, Inc. did not renew its self-certification to the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, and Commerce subsequently updated respondent's status to "not current" on its public website.

Complaint

12. In August 2012, Contract Logix, LLC acquired the assets of Contract Logix, Inc., including the website www.contractlogix.com.

13. Since at least August 2012 until May 2015, respondent disseminated or caused to be disseminated privacy policies and statements on the Contract Logix website, www.contractlogix.com, including but not limited to, the following statements:

E.U. Safe Harbor Privacy Policy

pledge to protect personal privacy, Contract Logix adheres to the Safe Harbor Principles.

14. Through the means described in Paragraph 13, respondent represented, expressly or by implication, that it was a current participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework.

15. In truth and in fact, beginning in August 2012, respondent was not a current participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. Therefore, the representation set forth in Paragraph 14 is false and misleading.

16. The acts and practices of respondent as alleged in this complaint constitute deceptive acts or practices, in or affecting commerce, in violation of Section 5(a) of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

THEREFORE, the Federal Trade Commission this twenty-ninth day of September 2015, has issued this complaint against respondent.

By the Commission.

DECISION AND ORDER

The Federal Trade Commission (“Commission” or “FTC”), having initiated an investigation of certain acts and practices of the respondent named in the caption hereof, and the respondent having been furnished thereafter with a copy of a draft complaint that the Bureau of Consumer Protection proposed to present to the Commission for its consideration and which, if issued by the Commission, would charge respondent with violations of the Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), 15 U.S.C. § 45 et seq.;

By the Commission.

ANALYSIS OF CONSENT ORDER TO AID PUBLIC COMMENT

The Federal Trade Commission ("FTC" or "Commission") has accepted, subject to final approval, a consent agreement applicable to Contract Logix, LLC ("Contract Logix").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for thirty (30) days for receipt of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After thirty (30) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received, and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement and take appropriate action or make final the agreement's proposed order.

Analysis to Aid Public Comment

This matter concerns alleged false or misleading representations that the company made to consumers concerning its participation in the Safe Harbor privacy Framework agreed upon by the U.S. and the European Union (“EU”) (“U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework”). The U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework allows U.S. companies to transfer data outside the EU consistent with EU law. To join the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, a company must self-certify to the U.S. Department of Commerce (“Commerce”) that it complies with a set of principles and related requirements that have been deemed by the European Commission as providing “adequate” privacy protection. These principles include notice, choice, onward transfer, security, data integrity, access, and enforcement. Commerce maintains a public website, www.export.gov/safeharbor, where it posts the names of companies that have self-certified to the Safe Harbor Framework. The listing of companies indicates whether their self-certification is “current” or “not current.” Companies are required to re-certify every year in order to retain their status as current members of the Safe Harbor Framework.

Contract Logix describes its business as providing contract management software and associated services. According to the Commission's complaint, the company has set forth on its website, www.contractlogix.com, privacy policies and statements about its practices, including statements related to its participation in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework.

The Commission's complaint alleges that Contract Logix falsely represented that it was a “current” participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework when, in fact, from August 2012 until May 2015, Contract Logix was not a “current” participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. The company's predecessor in interest had submitted its self-certification to the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework, but that self-certification had lapsed. Commerce subsequently updated the company's status to “not current” on its public website.

Part I of the proposed order prohibits Contract Logix from making misrepresentations about its membership in any privacy or security program sponsored by the government or any self-regulatory or standard-setting organization, including, but not limited to, the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework and the U.S.-Swiss Safe Harbor Framework.

Parts II through VI of the proposed order are reporting and compliance provisions. Part II requires Contract Logix to retain documents relating to its compliance with the order for a five-year period. Part III requires dissemination of the order now and in the future to persons with responsibilities relating to the subject matter of the order. Part IV ensures notification to the FTC of changes in corporate status. Part V mandates that Contract Logix submit an initial compliance report to the FTC, and make available to the FTC subsequent reports. Part VI is a provision “sunsetting” the order after twenty (20) years, with certain exceptions.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed order. It is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the proposed complaint or order or to modify the order’s terms in any way.
